

A Clear and Sustainable Commitment to Nature

PETE, the world's most recycled plastic, helps the environment—and you.

PWP's mission is clear: to make the best packaging on the market with an unequalled commitment to the environment.

Both objectives are accomplished by using post-consumer PETE, a material made from the billions of water bottles discarded into recycling bins each year. And our active Eco-Team™, a group of cross-disciplinary employees, continually works to develop ways to reduce waste and enhance community recycling.

It all comes together to make sure our mission is clear. And sustainable.
